Curriculum Vitae
Ye Wang

Contact

yw1576@nyu.edu
The Wilf Department of Politics, New York University
Room 319, 19 West 4th Street
New York, NY 10012

Education

Ph.D. in Political Science, New York University. 2015-2021 (expected)

M.A. in Economics, China Center for Economic Research (CCER), Peking University, 2014.

B.A. in Mathematics, Fudan University, 2011.

Research Interests

Political Methodology, Authoritarianism, Social Movement

Working Papers

* Political Methodology

"Design-based Inference for Spatial Experiments with Interference" (with Peter Aronow and Cyrus Samii).

"Comparing Effects When Access to Alternatives Varies: Revisiting 'Bringing Schools to Afghan Girls'" (with Dana Burde, Joel Middleton and Cyrus Samii).

"A Practical Guide to Counterfactual Estimators for Causal Inference with Time-Series Cross-Sectional Data" (with Licheng Liu and Yiqing Xu).

* Authoritarianism

"Electoral Impacts of Failed Revolutions: Evidence from Hong Kong's Umbrella Movement" (with Stan Wong).

"Geographical Diffusion of Protests in China: Evidence from Social Media" (with Han Zhang and Mengyang Zhao).

* Miscellany

"Pandering Politicians: Ideological Changes in Primary and General Elections" (with William Godel and Evgenii Nitikin).

Work in Progress

* Political Methodology

  "Causal Inference under Temporal and Spatial Interference."

* Authoritarianism

  "When Do Citizens Become Dissidents? Experimental Evidence from Hong Kong's Anti-reclamation Movement" (with Stan Wong).

Honors, Awards and Fellowships

- MacCracken fellowship, New York University, 2015-2020

Teaching Experience

Undergraduate

Political Methods, New York University, Spring, 2018, TA for Professor Thomas Brambor
Comparative Politics, New York University, Fall 2017, TA for Professor Joshua Tucker
Comparative Politics, New York University, Spring 2017, TA for Professor Michael Laver

Intermediate Microeconomics, Peking University, Spring 2013, TA for Professor Ping Yan
Intermediate Macroeconomics, Peking University, Fall 2012, TA for Professor Ping Yan

Graduate

Quantitative Method II, New York University, Spring 2020, TA for Professor Cyrus Samii
Quantitative Method II, New York University, Spring 2019, TA for Professor Cyrus Samii

Service

Manuscript Referee

China Economic Review, Comparative Political Studies

Departmental

Convener of the first Quantitative China Study Seminar, New York University, Fall 2017

Professional Memberships

American Political Science Association, Midwest Political Science Association, Southern Political Science Association, Society for Political Methodology

Presentations

Annual Conferences
APSA: 2018, 2019

MPSA: 2017, 2018, 2019

SPSA: 2017

PolMeth: 2019

Seminars/Invited Talks
Instructor, Workshop for Quantitative Social Sciences, Renmin University, July 2019

Invited Seminar, Peking University, December 2018

Invited Seminar, Hong Kong Polytechnic University, June 2018

Skills

Programming: Stata, C++, R, Python, GIS

Language: Mandarin (native)